

Christmas 2011 Newsletter

from Bridget, Malcolm, James & Matthew Holidays....

Early sun in Lanzarote, riding camels.....

....and climbing volcanos

And a break from her MSc for Bridget

Summer in Germany, exploring castles and a zoo in Heidelberg, and a Natural History Museum (and another zoo) in Stuttgart

An African Safari (in Suffolk), a camel centre and a Suffolk Punch sanctuary for James with Grandma and Grandad L, whilst Malcolm and Matthew did Lighthouse, and Bridget studied for her MSc.....

Late sun at Ironbridge, exploring our engineering heritage

...and Days Out

James gets his regular fix of dinosaur exhibitions, at The O2 and the Natural History Museum

Andrew takes a trip by canal boat on the Grand Union Canal...

...and James finds out about the Tudor zoo at the Tower of London...

...whilst Matthew extracts apple juice (and wishes it were cider)

Friends and Family

Meeting up with cousins at the Natural History Museum...

...friends from Seattle

...and family at the blessing of David and Ou (from Thailand)

Matthew gets wet learning to kayak..

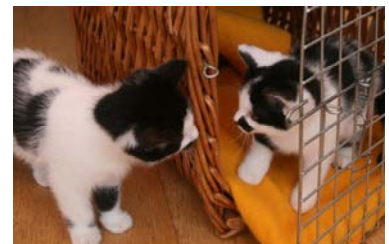

..and enjoys playing guitar (and drums) in the school rock band

James leads Splash for a ride at Ashridge

And a welcome to the family for Chess and Domino, born in May

And Bridget's MSc? Domino helps Bridget to get it finished and achieve a merit. Brilliant!

Happy Christmas

We hope this finds you well and happy, and send you all our very best wishes for a safe and healthy 2012.
